Interested in tightening your field methods? Finding some new resources to help with planning your survey? Or avoiding awkward questions about your survey at the end of the field season?

This presentation by Special Projects Archaeologist Nick Schmuck will be a back-to-basics of planning your field survey for a State Cultural Resources Investigation Permit (SCRIP), while highlighting common methodological gaps and weaknesses, and the standard of work that OHA expects from field surveys conducted on state lands.

OHA looks forward to productive discussions about how to overcome a variety of logistical and methodological challenges that archaeologists face in the field throughout the varied regions of Alaska.
